INJURED HUSBAND WAITS
BY BODY OF HIS WIFE

Four persons, a woman and three men, were killed in automobile accidents in and around New York yesterday. Many were injured, including five children, three of whom were operated on in a hospital at the same time in a hurried effort to save their lives.

On Manhattan Island two men, one a broker and the other a cigar manufacturer, met death through being struck by machines on the streets.

A striking incident of the day was the narrow escape of a woman 84 years old and her four companions when the automobile in which they were riding ran away down a mountain-side.

WOMAN DIES UNDER CAR.

Three Other Persons Hurt in Long Island Collision.

NORTHBOROUGH, N. J., June 6.—One woman was killed and three other persons were badly hurt this afternoon when two automobiles met head on close to the Long Island Railroad station at East Northborough. The machines were making a turn in the road and both were going at great speed. One of the cars overturned with a woman underneath it and the other car went into a ditch, throwing the two occupants out. When the smaller car was righted it was found that the woman under it was dead.

In the smaller car were Charles N. Weeks, a wheelwright of Bay Shore, and his wife, 55 years old, who was killed. The other car contained Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Welcher, also of Bay Shore. Mr. Weeks was thrown clear of his car, and landed on the roadway. He received cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken.

The Welchers' car after striking the other car, got badly out of control and ran into a ditch, where it overturned. Mrs. Welcher's head was injured and surgeons at the Haines Sanitarium here, where she was taken, are unable as yet to tell whether she received a fracture of the skull.

Mr. Weeks, although in great pain, refused to leave his wife's body. He remained in the road until Coroner W. B. Gibson of Huntington arrived. After a brief investigation the coroner permitted the removal of Mrs. Weeks's body to her home in Bay Shore.

MAN KILLED IN CRASH.

Three Children Badly Hurt When Trolley Car Hits Auto.

THENTON, N. J., June 6.—One man was killed and three children and another man were injured late this afternoon when a New York trolley car and an automobile came into collision with an automobile at Dutch Neck, seven miles from this city. Edward Tindall, 30 years old, a farmer of Windsor, was killed, and the injured are: Louis Tindall, 8 years old; Edward Tindall, Jr., 9; Beulah Tindall, 2; and Melville Tindall, a brother of Edward Tindall.

The children were taken to the McKinley Hospital here and Melville Tindall was taken to his home. All of the fingers of his right hand were broken.

The automobile contained the persons injured and Edward Tindall is supposed to have been driving the car at the time of the accident. The wives of Edward and Melville Tindall were also in the car.

The three children were operated on at the hospital at the same time and hope was held out for their quick recovery. Frank J. Herbert and Emil Keyser, the conductor and motorman, respectively, of the trolley car were arrested.

Brother Killed When He Steps in Front of Auto Truck.

William Ruhl, a broker of 1022 Greene avenue, Brooklyn, was struck and knocked down yesterday in front of 45 Whitehall street by an automobile truck, owned by the Stuyvesant Auto Trading Company, 224 East Ninety-fourth street. Samuel Goldstein, 236 Madison street, the driver, lifted Mr. Ruhl aboard the truck and hurried him to the Voluntary Hospital. There Dr. Hill said the brother was dead.

Goldstein was arrested on a charge of homicide and arraigned before Magistrate Handy in the Tombs court.

When Policeman Upham of Traffic Squad A explained that several witnesses saw Ruhl step in front of the truck from the rear of another automobile and asserted that in his opinion the accident was unavoidable Magistrate Handy paroled Goldstein until word came to the coroner's disposition of the case.

Two Children and Woman Hurt in Central Park Crash.

Three persons were injured in Central Park yesterday when an automobile veered to one side and ran into a tree. The occupants of the machine were hurled to the pavement. Louis Harris, 59 West 126th street, was driving the automobile on the East Drive when the steering gear refused to work at Ninety-fourth street. After the crash Dr. Rosenthal was called from Mr. Sinai Hospital.

The injured persons all received painful bruises. They are Carl Harris, 2 years old, of 59 West 126th street; Rena Rudolph, 3, of 524 East Ninety-fourth street; and Mrs. Lillie Harris, 30, of 59 West 126th street. Mrs. Harris was taken to the hospital.

Girl Driver's Machine Injures Woman Going to Church.

Mrs. Catherine Quarles, 60 years old, of 203 Penmore street, Brooklyn, was struck by an automobile which she was hurled last night when crossing Parkside avenue at Bedford avenue on her way to church. The automobile which knocked her down was owned by Mrs. Roslyn Bookstaver of 1040 Eastern Parkway. Miss Bookstaver had some friends in the car.

According to Miss Bookstaver's story Mrs. Quarles could not be seen in the rain and probably did not see the automobile because she had an umbrella.

She was taken to the hospital where she received a fracture of the skull. She makes her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dunham, at the Penmore street address.

FIREMEN'S PARADE TO SHOW ADVANCE IN FIGHTING FLAMES SINCE BUCKET LINE OF 200 YEARS AGO

Capt. Wenman, 92-Year-Old
Veteran of Volunteer Days,
Will Be in Line.

The firemen's parade on June 12 promises to be the most interesting in the history of the Fire Department. It will be the fiftieth anniversary of the paid department. The parade will picture the development of firefighting in New York from its beginning with a humble bucket line 200 years ago.

Apparatus that dates back to 1715 will be shown. In the parade will march Capt. James F. Wenman, 92 years old and crippled as a boy, who served in the old volunteer department and also in the paid department and who still goes to fire with Hook and Ladder 15. There will be other men in line who were among the first to join the paid department, many of them now more than 70 years old.

Persons who cherish that old theory about nothing new under the sun would be gratified if they examined some of the records of the department which show how old the fundamental principles of firefighting and prevention are. The modern methods of examining dangerous buildings and chimneys and finding their owners for similar violations was practised as thoroughly in 1741 as it is today. The chief development has crossing Eighth avenue at 115th street at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The car, which was owned by Unger Kramer of 137 West Thirtieth street and driven by Joseph Abrahamson of Coney Island, landed on his head and received a fracture of the skull. He died five hours later.

Mayor Violated Auto Law: Fines Himself.

YORK, Pa., June 5.—For driving his automobile over the city's streets without headlights, in violation of a State law, Mayor John R. Lefan fined himself $5.

This is the minimum penalty for the first offense, and is the same the Mayor has imposed upon persons who have arrested before him for similar violations of the law. Mayor Lefan was stopped by Patrolman Free and informed that his lights were not burning. In the car were Mrs. Lefan, Judge N. Sargent Ross and the Rev. Samuel H. Stein.

Second Man Dies After Motorcycle Auto Collision.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 6.—Samuel Lyons, 23 years old, of 11 William street, East Orange, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital today as a result of injuries received yesterday in an automobile crash.

Lyons had swallowed muriatic acid, a friend, when he was on a motorcycle when it came into collision with an automobile owned and driven by John O. Bradley, a salesman. Both died yesterday.

TAKES POISON IN AN AUTO

Richmond Hill Man Strangles Himself—Likely to Die.

Claude Snyder, 26 years old, of 2395 Jamaica avenue, Richmond Hill, L. I., started a sightseeing automobile full of passengers at Coney Island last night by suddenly jumping up and announcing that he had taken poison. He was taken to the Coney Island Hospital, where it was said he was dying.

Snyder told Patrolman Hahn, who came hurrying up to the automobile at West Twelfth street, not to surf avenue. He made Snyder drink some milk, while others searched for the bottle, and found it, almost empty.

On the letter in the man's pocket was a note saying: "If I am injured or unconscious please notify Mrs. Mae Snyder or W. J. Van Sant, 2395 Jamaica avenue, Richmond Hill." Another message, written on the back of a letter from his wife to him, read: "After finding out what I have, it had broken my heart. Have a good time. I will be out of your way."

Jews Seek Peace Benefits.

Want Congress After War to Give Them Their Rights.

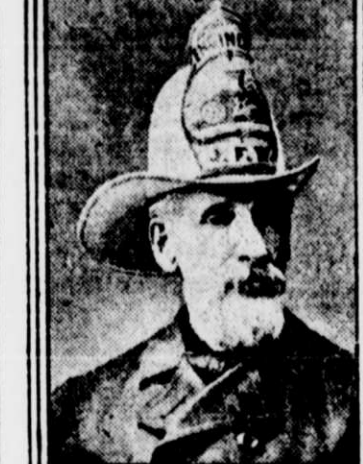

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6.—Louis D. Brandeis, in a long and eloquent message to the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, which opened a convention today on the Steel Pier, said that "Jews are no longer a dream, it is now a fact." He expressed the thought that Palestine is to become an independent nation.

Other speakers pointed out the need of all Jews to unite in a demand when the peace congress is called that Jews the world over receive the same treatment as other races.

On the basis of a law of New York which will submit a resolution providing for a congress whose influence is to be employed in securing the Jews their rights.

Grand Master Leon Sanders of New York expressed sorrow over the indifference of his people to the sufferings in the war zone, and as a result of his appeal $50,000 will be raised here. The order has advanced $8,000 in membership since Mr. Sanders was elected six years ago.

There is objection to the Rochester convention for forbidding grand officers, except the secretary, from serving for more than two years, and an effort is to be made to repeal it.

Capt. James F. Wenman.
At 92 he is the oldest living member of the Volunteer Fire Department and also of the first organized company in the paid service. He still attends fires.

been in the apparatus. The old bucket line and pumping machine have given way to motor fire engines and the ready volunteers who fought fires in this city for 150 years have given place to paid firemen in one of the largest departments in the world.

The first fire engines were brought from England in 1753 and marked a big advance from the old bucket brigade. They were worked by twelve men tread-mill fashion, but sometimes they didn't work at all. The headquarters was on Broad street between Wall and Exchange place.

Under the later system, of which Capt. Wenman is a veteran, the firefighting force was composed of some of the most influential men in the community. There was no talk of taking the department out of politics in those days. It was the property of the city, and the firemen were a member of the Big Six, which William M. Tweed organized and ruled as a foreman.

The bill creating the paid department ended "the good old days" in 1867. Gov. Fenton appointed Charles G. Pinkney, Martin H. Brown, Philip W. Enes and James F. Becker the first Commissioners. The paid department had at its start thirty-five steam engines with tenders, twelve trucks and two hand engines and tenders. The budget for the year was $3,243,535. The first chief of the department was John Decker.

Twenty-five members of the first paid fire department, organized in 1865. There are about fifteen other members still living. They will figure prominently in the parade next Saturday.

At a meeting of delegates of the Federation of Oriental Jews of America, held in the Recreation Rooms in Chrystie street yesterday, it was announced that the federation has invited the Rev. Dr. Abraham Galante of Constantinople to come to America and become chief rabbi for the Oriental communities.

The invitation is for a period of three years. It is extended through the Jewish community of this city, and although no word has been received, owing to lack of mail facilities, the federation expects acceptance of its call. It is said that the rabbi is a learned man, and especially to teach the English language to boys and girls among them." said a member of the federation last night.

"When they speak English they can join other communities and a great part of the responsibility is discharged."

"Rabbi Galante is a journalist, a work, to make them Americans, and is now editing three newspapers, one in Ladino, one in French and one in Arabic. He has had long training in English and is said to understand American ways."

THREE DEAD, MANY HURT.

Autos and Motorcycles Responsible for the Accidents.

PITTSBURGH, June 6.—Three persons are dead and many injured as a result of automobile and motorcycle accidents today.

Albert Reyer, 16, while playing in front of his home in Tarentum, was killed by a car driven by Miss Marie Elmsporen, daughter of Albert Elmsporen, a hotel proprietor of Brackenridge.

Joseph Viazoukakin was killed by a motorcycle ridden by Alex Wasilevsky near Manifold.

Samuel Byers, 20, was killed and H. R. Geary, 18, was injured severely when their motorcycle skidded as they tried to avoid an automobile near Newcastle.

John Snyder of Beulah Church suffered two broken ribs when his motorcycle struck an automobile. John Hughes has a broken leg and arm as a result of an accident caused by the steering gear of their automobile breaking while the machine was descending a grade near Ligonier. Five others were injured. All were from Greensburg.

Machine Runs Away Down Mountain: Woman of 84 Hurt.

NEWTON, N. J., June 6.—Five persons, one of them a woman 84 years old, barely escaped death near here this afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding ran away down a steep hill on the Roseville Mountains, when the brakes failed to hold. At the bottom of the hill the car turned over and the occupants were thrown out. They received cuts and bruises, with the exception of a six-year-old girl, who ran three miles to get help.

The automobile was owned and driven by Peter Crooke of Brooklyn. In the car were Mrs. Anna Earle, Thomas Knoll, a former policeman; his wife and Margaret Devore, of this place,

TWO HURT IN FIGHT AFTER BASE GAME

Fans and Players Battle at Crotona Parkway Over
$10 Prize.

Baseball rivalry between the Kingston Athletics and the Orioles, two teams of the Bronx, which met on the south end diamond at 174th street and Crotona Parkway yesterday afternoon, developed into a free for all fight with bats, bricks and fists after the game itself had been decided in favor of the Athletics by a score of 10 to 4. Two of the combatants were removed to Ford Hospital, and five of the rival fans, including the other injured man, were held by the coroner as material witnesses to the fracas.

Owing to the intense feeling on the part of rooters and players on each side an exceptionally large crowd gathered at the baseball field to watch the play. There was constant wrangling throughout the game, a long drawn out bitter battle of grudge. Besides athletic supremacy, the winners were to get $10 and that $10 caused the fight. As soon as the ninth inning ended the Athletics claimed the money, but only $5 was at hand.

Immediately the resentment of the Athletics' players was taken up by their sympathizers among the spectators and angry words flew thick and fast. In the midst of the general confusion, of which the rival players were the centre, some one shouted "Kingston, get your bats!" Every one within reach of a brick or a stone, however, was quick to respond, and those who could not find other weapons piled their fists.

A running fight between players and fans ensued. The battle was waged along 174th street through the park and out onto Crotona Parkway. At that point a stone struck Harry Shaffer, a Kingston Athletic fan, 23 years old, a clerk, of 1462 Brook avenue, the Bronx, and he fell to the sidewalk unconscious, his skull fractured. That did not stop the melee, however, for before the reserves of the Tremont avenue station arrived Joseph W. Johnson, 21 years old, of 209 Willis avenue, had been hit on the head with a bat, which severely cracked his skull.

While Dr. Elise hurried off to Fordham Hospital with Shaffer and Johnson, the latter a prisoner, the police went up two doors to the fight and brought them to the station house. Coroner Healey and the District Attorney's office were notified and after an hour or so the prisoners four besides Johnson were held as material witnesses for a further examination this morning.

The other last night were: Daniel K. Roach of 488 East 163d street, Max Blau of 1381 Franklin avenue, Harry Silver of 3830 Third avenue and Samuel Fisher of 2774 Park avenue.

SEVEN SAILORS START SUMP'N.

Frenchmen Locked Up as Sullivan Placate Disturbers.

Seven French sailors on a steamship lying at West Forty-fourth street and on the stoop of a factory building at 627 West Forty-third street, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues, last night as members and friends of the John L. Sullivan Association were returning to their homes in the neighborhood from a picnic at the Union Hill Schuette Park. Margaret Mulhearn of 535 West Forty-fourth street, who was with her brother, Charles Mulhearn, Mrs. Mulhearn and a young man friend of the family, fell back because her shoes pinched and Mulhearn and her friend heard her scream and ran back. They started to rescue Miss Mulhearn and the sailors fought.

Edward Beatty, a special policeman, ran after the sailors who made a break for the waterfront and fired two shots in the air. Policemen Burns and Duffy of the West Forty-seventh street station, who were with her brother, Charles Mulhearn, Mrs. Mulhearn and a young man friend of the family, fell back because her shoes pinched and Mulhearn and her friend heard her scream and ran back. They started to rescue Miss Mulhearn and the sailors fought.

He was before Magistrate Cornell in Yorkville court yesterday charged by De Fazio Angelo, who has an Italian restaurant on East Twenty-ninth street, with consuming a meal of $6.50 value and refusing to pay for it.

"Your Honor, commander of the faithful," he opened, smiling, on the story. "It is I that am honored," interposed the Magistrate deprecatingly, "to have a Prince in court."
